Information

Unity Schools Trust makes all reasonable efforts to ensure that the information contained on its website is accurate. However, the Trust cannot guarantee the completeness or accuracy of the information and is not responsible for any errors, omissions, or inaccuracies. Furthermore, the Trust accepts no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage howsoever arising. Unity Schools Trust reserves the right to make changes to, or take down, the website or remove or alter any content at any time without notice. Information on the website regarding the curriculum is provided for information and guidance purposes only and does not constitute a contract. Unity Schools Trust reserves the right to withdraw or to make alterations to the curriculum and facilities if necessary. It is the responsibility of the user to check the accuracy of relevant information before entering into any commitment. Unity Schools Trust accepts no liability for any loss or damage resulting directly or indirectly from inaccuracies in the information held on its website.

Unity Schools Trust web pages contain links to external web sites which are not affiliated to the Trust. The Trust is not responsible for, and has no control over, these sites and links to external sites should not be taken as a recommendation or endorsement of the external site’s information, products or services. Unity Schools Trust takes no responsibility for any loss or damage suffered as a result of using, or the information published on, any of the pages of the linked web sites.

Whilst every effort is made to ensure that content is free from viruses and that that the website runs without any problems or interruptions, Unity Schools Trust cannot accept any liability for damages resulting from virus infection and will not be liable, nor take any responsibility, for the website being temporarily unavailable due to technical or other reasons.

Unity Schools Trust welcomes comments and suggestions on its website and also welcomes reports of any inaccuracies on the website.

Copyright Statement

Unless explicitly stated to the contrary, all rights, including copyright, in the content of the Trust’s web pages are owned or controlled for these purposes by Unity Schools Trust irrespective of whether a copyright symbol and/or statement is present. In accessing Unity School Trust’s web pages users agree that they may only download the content for their own personal non-commercial use. The material on the web pages should not be used, copied, stored or transmitted outside Unity Schools Trust in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without the prior written consent of Unity Schools Trust or in accordance with the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988.

Cookies Statement

Unity Schools Trust may collect information about a website user’s computer and their visits to the website such as their IP address, geographical location, browser type, referral source, length of visit and number of page views. The Trust may use this information in the administration of the website and to improve the website's usability.

Unity Schools Trust uses cookies on the website. A cookie is a text file sent by a web server to a web browser, and stored by the browser. The text file is then sent back to the server each time the browser requests a page from the server. This enables the web server to identify and track the web browser.

The Trust may send a cookie which may be stored by the user's browser on their computer's hard drive. This information may be used from the cookie in the administration of the Trust website, to improve the website's usability and for marketing purposes. The Trust may also use that information to recognise the user's computer when they visit the website, and to personalise our website for them.

Most browsers allow a user to refuse cookies. For example, in Internet Explorer a user can refuse all cookies by clicking "Tools", "Internet Options", "Privacy", and selecting "Block all cookies" using the sliding selector. This may, however, have a negative impact upon the usability of many websites.
